

About the Department

Department of Preventive & Social Medicine was initially established in 1979 at JIPMER, Puducherry. Several hundreds of quality research publications and over 100 postgraduate dissertations have been completed. Health Management is one of the important pillars of Community Medicine. We have developed and strengthened the Health Management teaching and training programs for MD Community Medicine and MPH Scholars. The Department works very closely with neighbouring states in the areas of Health System Strengthening and Implementation Research.
