

Senior Resident from Pharmacology wins first prize in oral presentation

Dr. Rekha Priyadarshini, Senior Resident, from the Department of Pharmacology, won the first prize in the oral presentation for the paper titled “Influence of ABCB1 C3435T and C1236T gene polymorphisms on tumour response to docetaxel-based neo-adjuvant chemotherapy in locally-advanced breast cancer patients of South India” in the National Seminar on ‘Trends in Cancer Omics’ organized by the Centre for Bioinformatics, Pondicherry University on 14th March 2018. Dr. Deepak Gopal Shewade [Professor (Senior Scale), Dept. of Pharmacology], Dr. Smita Kayal [Associate Professor, Dept. of Medical Oncology] and Dr. Ananthkrishnan Ramesh [Additional Professor, Dept. of Radio-diagnosis] are the other contributors to this research work.